The Land Conservation Leadership Awards recognize the outstanding accomplishments of individuals, policy makers, land trusts, and other groups that demonstrate leadership, helping to protect Wisconsin's special places. They honor the power of committed citizens and offer inspiring examples of conservation success. Presentation of the 2018 awards will take place in Madison on September 20, 2018.

AWARD CATEGORIES:

- Land Trust of the Year – Recognizes a land trust that demonstrates its commitment to permanently safeguard Wisconsin's natural treasures and open lands through its leadership, achievements, projects and more.
- Conservationist of the Year – Recognizes individuals, organizations or groups that exhibit extraordinary commitment to Wisconsin's land conservation movement.

- Award with a Harold "Bud" Jordahl Distinction – Each year, the Selection Committee receives a number of nominations describing extraordinary land conservation projects, accomplishments, pursuits, partnerships, etc., that are highly deserving of an award, but do not fit perfectly into any one award category. Under these circumstances, the Selection Committee may elect to honor such a nominee with an award bearing the Harold "Bud" Jordahl distinction. Past examples include the Harold "Bud" Jordahl Lifetime Achievement Award, the Harold "Bud" Jordahl Partnership of the Year, the Harold "Bud" Jordahl Stewardship Award and the Harold "Bud" Jordahl Land Trust Pioneer Award.
