Questing Workshop: Building Community & Deepening Community Connections

June 6, 2008

11 am – 6 pm
La Crosse, Wisconsin

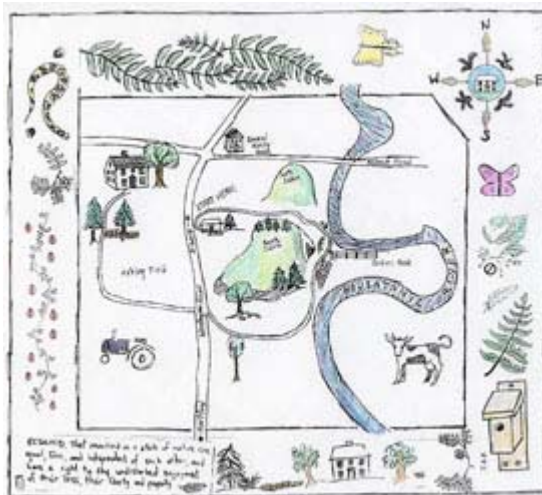

Instructor

Steven Glazer directs the Valley Quest program, winner of the New England Environmental Education Alliance's "Program of the Year" award in 2005. He is the editor of Valley Quest: 89 Treasure Hunts in the Upper Valley and Valley Quest II: 75 More Treasure Hunts in the Upper Valley; the co-author of Questing: a Guide to Creating Community Treasure Hunts; and author of The Heart of Learning: Spirituality in Education. Steven received his MA from the University of Chicago in 1986; and has worked with Valley Quest since 1999, helping more than 150 school and community groups study and share their natural and cultural treasures. He serves on the faculty of Antioch New England Graduate School (Department of Education) and Plymouth State University (Heritage Studies); and hosts retreats for the Center for Whole Communities in Fayston, Vermont.

Gathering Waters Conservancy invites you to attend the Questing Workshop: Building Community & Deepening Community Connections on June 6 in La Crosse, Wisconsin.

Valley Quest is an award-winning program that uses treasure hunts to discover and celebrate special places and their stories.

To make a Quest, a group adopts a site and collaboratively learns about it through field work, research and oral history. Learning is shared by developing and publishing the Quest, which initiates future visitors to hidden stories and special places. This session introduces the Questing process, and takes participants through the process of developing a Quest by visiting a Mississippi Valley Conservancy's property. See how this example of the Quest concept represents a compelling approach for conservation organizations to engage their community.

Registration & Fees

To register, complete registration form and return by May 23, 2008.

Class Limit: 10 participants

Workshop Fee: $100/person. The fee includes lunch, refreshments and related handouts.

The workshop will take place outside on a Mississippi Valley Conservancy property. Please wear appropriate hiking clothing.

Cancellation Policy: For cancellations more than one week prior to the June 6 workshop, GWC will refund the balance paid less a $30 cancellation fee. GWC provides no refund for cancellation within one week of the workshop.

Workshop Learning Objectives

- A. Stressing the importance of community building; bringing together diverse stakeholders
- B. Teaching participants how to find and tell a compelling, over-arching story that frames the importance of their property.
- C. Demonstrate the tools and procedures of the Valley Quest process; and their potential value to the conservation community.
