

LAND LEGACY SOCIETY

The Land Legacy Society plays a crucial role in protecting the places that make Wisconsin such a wonderful place to live, work, and play. The generous members of this group of individuals demonstrate their leadership and commitment through annual gifts of $1,000 or more. Support from the Land Legacy Society goes a long way to help:

- Secure millions of dollars in public funding for land conservation in Wisconsin by defending the Knowles-Nelson Stewardship Program in the state budget.
- Provide land trusts with the necessary tools, knowledge, and resources to ensure that the places you love most about this great state remain protected, forever.

Land Legacy Society members receive opportunities to:

- Meet with Gathering Waters' board, staff, and other conservation leaders annually
- Meet other Land Legacy Society members who share a similar passion for protecting Wisconsin's special places
- Receive updates on Gathering Waters' programs and policy efforts regularly
- Discuss thoughts, ideas, and feedback about our work

Common levels of giving include annual gifts of:

$1,000	$2,500	$5,000	$10,000
